- from the founders -

As mothers (of 4 boys between us) and interior designers, we found it was a constant challenge to find products for little ones that were gentle on the skin, made from natural ingredients, free from harsh chemicals but that also look stylish in the family home. Combining ease and aesthetics, al.ive body baby makes taking care of our little one's skin a pleasure and not a chore.

Just as we were inspired to launch our personal care brand al.ive body by the lack of naturally-derived, design inspired skincare products on the market, the limited offerings in the mother and baby category birthed our latest innovation – al.ive body baby.

al.ive body baby combines naturally derived, proven safe and effective ingredients to nourish the skin of both Mum and Bub. And we've kept functionality in mind — al.ive body baby products make mum's life easier with their easy-to-use pumps and no-mess caps.

- about the range - al.ive body baby is as much about what is not in our formula, as what is. Being naturally derived, it is: vegan and free from synthetic fragrance and dyes, SLS/SLES, parabens, silicones and harsh detergents.

No longer do we have to compromise when it comes to safe, natural skincare for our babies. al.ive body baby uses only the highest quality ingredients in our products and need not be hidden away or forgotten in the back of your cupboard.
