a message from us

FROM OUR FOUNDERS

It is our belief that our surroundings largely define the way that we feel, and consequently shape the quality of our daily lives. Integrating this ethos was at the top of our agenda when creating al.ive body. The result is a home & personal care range that marries high-end product design and integrity with the demands of the conscious consumer.

the al.ive body story

GET TO KNOW US BETTER

Since winning Australia's number 1 renovation TV show 'The Block' in 2013, founders Alisa and Lysandra Fraser have been running a successful interior design business whilst balancing regular speaking engagements, television appearances and collaborations with high end brands.

The idea to expand into the personal care market was born after struggling to source products that complemented their finished projects, while also offering product purity to their clients.

After 18 months of exploration, determination and hard work, al.ive body was launched in March 2020. The brand name was inspired by the twins' passion for environmental causes that help keep our planet 'alive' and incorporates the first initials of their names.
